Easy to read, Geometry, by Ray C. Jurgensen far surpasses the content found in many of today's Geometry textbooks. Each chapter begins with a visual, tied into the subject of the text itself. Exercises are simple, yet effective in teaching the material in print form to readers .Each chapter contains an algebra review, which is a skill that is lacking in most high school geometry students.

"Old Sayings I Just Made Up 2" is a continuation of the first book, "Old Sayings I Just Made Up." These sayings are keen, condensed observations of human behavior in usually less than 140 characters, the limit of characters allowable on Twitter. Social media was the impetus. It provided an outlet for Professor Ray Grant to share short but powerful observations on human behavior especially during this time in world history. It is such a unique time because nearly everyone is communicating on a constant basis through their smartphones and computers -- every waking minute. Everyone has their unique opinion on everything from politics to personal improvement to parenthood. The range of social discussions are endless, and here in "Old Sayings I Just Made Up 2," Professor Ray Grant captures beautifully many thoughts we may have had, said or thought. It is like he's reading our minds or giving our minds the appropriate thoughts and fodder so that if or when we encounter similar situations or circumstances again, we will be prepared to give our own more insightful thoughts and ideas.

Life is created by a series of events. If you can find some way to pull 20 extra minutes out of your life, you'd better use them wisely. Where will you discover this time, and when you find this time, how will you use it? Just 20 minutes a day will convert into a powerful 121 hours a year. That is a huge piece of time that you can use to gain new capacities and expand. The advantage is seen when we make a day by day decision and submit those 20 minutes to something beneficial. You can awaken 20 minutes before, take 20 minutes from lunch, after work, or just before bed - the decision is totally up to you. Just do it! Remove all excuses and distractions. Imagine if you just use 20 minutes a day to create a spark for your business. That small spark can turn into a major flame! How do you create this spark for your business? It's through promotion. Promotion isn't something that ought to be done randomly, just when you think you have sufficient energy to do it. Honestly, as an entrepreneur who's always busy, you're never going to have room schedule-wise. Consequently, you need to make time for what's important. This implies doing something intentional each and every day. Before you think you don't have room schedule-wise to do that, reconsider. Showcasing doesn't need to be hours of your day. Instead, it's something you can do in as little time as 20 minutes a day.
