Sit, sip, and savor God's holy word every single morning with this self-guided women's Bible study journal. During the time it takes to finish your morning cup of favorite coffee or tea, soak up some encouragement for your entire day. Start off the right way... with your Bible open, your heart ready, and your mind focused on what matters most. It is as easy as... 1. Fill your morning cup. 2. Open your Bible. 3. Fill your heart. Repeat daily. This simple 40 day Bible study journal for women is designed to help you be encouraged by God's holy word daily. You choose the topics or scripture that interest you or use it as a note-taking companion to another Bible study. And, just in case you have no study plans to start your day, suggested scripture readings are provided in each daily section. Wherever you are in the journey to understanding God's word better, this Bible study journal is an amazingly versatile tool to guide you through the habit of regularly studying and meditating on God's word. This women's Bible study journal includes daily sections for: -Writing about your mood, a focus or to-do list for the day, and what's on your mind. -Recording what you are thankful for each day and your praises to God. -Expressing your prayer concerns and taking them to the Lord in writing. -Noting what you are reading in the Bible (book, chapters, and verses) and your thoughts about it. -Reflecting how your daily Bible study applies to your current life circumstances. -Writing your favorite daily scripture or a Bible memory verse to study. -Brainstorming how to share God's word with others in your life. -Taking extra notes about your daily Bible study or whatever else is needed. It is a generous 160+ pages in an 8.5 inches square size. This study journal is not designed specifically for any version or translation of the Bible. What you will need to accompany this study journal for the most benefit: a Bible of your choice and some quiet time each day.

In the summer and autumn of 2006 I read several interviews with Brian May in which he mentioned his desire to complete the PhD that he had abandoned in 1974. I looked up the papers he had published while a PhD student, which were on spectroscopic studies of the motion of the dust responsible for the zodiacal light, and felt that there was a basis for a thesis. Since he had been a student at Imperial, I knew, as Head of the Astrophysics Group at Imperial, that it would be good for the Group if he came and worked with us. I got in touch with him by email and suggested he come and talk about it. He replied enthusiastically and said that he was working on typing up what he had completed by 1974. I gradually realized that I was the only staff member at Imperial who had previously worked on zodiacal dust, so that I would have to act as his supervisor. Eventually we met and I tried to assess whether he would be able to find time for the huge amount of work that finishing off a thesis involves, particularly if it has not been touched for over 30 years. Since some of Brian's emails were coming from the recording studio I knew there was strong competition for his time.

This book offers a highly accessible introduction to natural language processing, the field that supports a variety of language technologies, from predictive text and email filtering to automatic summarization and translation. With it, you'll learn how to write Python programs that work with large collections of unstructured text. You'll access richly annotated datasets using a comprehensive range of linguistic data structures, and you'll understand the main algorithms for analyzing the content and structure of written communication. Packed with examples and exercises, Natural Language Processing with Python will help you: Extract information from unstructured text, either to guess the topic or identify "named entities" Analyze linguistic structure in text, including parsing and semantic analysis Access popular linguistic databases, including WordNet and trebanks Integrate techniques drawn from fields as diverse as linguistics and artificial intelligence This book will help you gain practical skills in natural language processing using the Python programming language and the Natural Language Toolkit (NLTK) open source library. If you're interested in developing web applications, analyzing multilingual news sources, or documenting endangered languages -- or if you're simply curious to have a programmer's perspective on how human language works -- you'll find Natural Language Processing with Python both fascinating and immensely useful.

In the section entitled "Concerning the Service of the Church," the Book of Common Prayer identifies the normative services of the Episcopal Church: The Holy Eucharist, the principal act of Christian worship on the Lord's Day and other major Feasts, and Daily Morning and Evening Prayer, as set forth in this book, are the regular services appointed for public worship in the Church. (BCP, 13) Eucharistic propers (collects, Scripture readings, and proper prefaces) are provided in the Book of Common Prayer for the days when the Eucharist is the principal service. The Calendar section at the front of the Prayer Book identifies these eucharistic feasts by placing them into three categories, ranked by priority: Principal Feasts, Sundays, and Holy Days. Normatively, on all other days, Morning and Evening Prayer are the Church's official public services. However, as celebration of the Eucharist has become more frequent, many congregations and other communities of faith now celebrate weekday Eucharists on days for which the Prayer Book does not assign propers. The Prayer Book provides a range of possible options for the celebration of the Eucharist on these ferial or non-feast days. These options include the celebration of: • a Major Feast that has fallen elsewhere in the week (BCP, 17); • a commemoration listed in the Calendar (BCP, 18); • a commemoration not appointed in the Church's Calendar by using the Common of Saints (BCP, 18); • an Ember Day or Rogation Day (BCP, 18); • the season, by using the propers of the preceding Sunday (BCP, 15B); • the weekdays of Holy Week and Easter, by using the propers appointed in the Book of Common Prayer; • an occasion provided for in the propers for Various Occasions (BCP, 18). In addition, since 1979 Lesser Feasts and Fasts has appointed weekday propers for seasons of the church year, and when Holy Women, Holy Men was authorized in 2009, it included those seasonal propers. To facilitate the use of these authorized options, this resource contains weekday propers for the seasons of the Church Year (the temporal cycle), the Common of Saints (the sanctoral cycle), and Various Occasions from the Prayer Book and from resources authorized since the adoption of the Prayer Book. The propers in this resource are grouped into three sections by type for the temporal cycle, the sanctoral cycle, and various occasions.
