How do ordinary people access justice? This book offers a novel socio-legal approach to access to justice, alternative dispute resolution, vulnerability and energy poverty. It poses an access to justice challenge and rethinks it through a lens that accommodates all affected people, especially those who are currently falling through the system. It raises broader questions about alternative dispute resolution, the need for reform to include more collective approaches, a stronger recognition of the needs of vulnerable people, and a stronger emphasis on delivering social justice. The authors use energy poverty as a site of vulnerability and examine the barriers to justice facing this excluded group. The book assembles the findings of an interdisciplinary research project studying access to justice and its barriers in the UK, Italy, France, Bulgaria and Spain (Catalonia). In-depth interviews with regulators, ombuds, energy companies, third-sector organisations and vulnerable people provide a rich dataset through which to understand the phenomenon. The book provides theoretical and empirical insights which shed new light on these issues and sets out new directions of inquiry for research, policy and practice. It will be of interest to researchers, students and policymakers working on access to justice, consumer vulnerability, energy poverty, and the complex intersection between these fields. The book includes contributions by Cosmo Graham (UK), Sarah Supino and Benedetta Voltaggio (Italy), Marine Cornelis (France), Anais Varo and Enric Bartlett (Catalonia) and Teodora Peneva (Bulgaria).

Vol. for 1922-1924, 1926-1933 have separately paged section: Revista.

Dorian è un vecchio irascibile e solitario. Nessuno lo sopporta e tutti si chiedono da dove sia arrivato. Vive in monolocale squallido e grigio... come la sua vita senza senso. Ma Dorian ha un segreto che nessun altro conosce: non ha un passato. Non ha una fotografi a, una lettera, un oggetto particolare... nulla che lo ricolleghi a qualcosa. Nessuno sa niente di lui. I suoi ricordi più vecchi sembrano iniziare il giorno in cui ha messo piede a Denver Norfolk. Otto anni prima. E prima di allora... il nulla. Ma a Denver ci sono altre due persone come lui. Cos'è successo, otto anni fa, che ha cambiato il corso della loro vita?
