The Ideal Of

“What is the sound of one hand clapping?” “Does a dog have Buddha-nature?" These cryptic expressions are among the best-known examples of koans, the confusing, often contradictory sayings that form the centerpiece of Zen Buddhist learning and training. Viewed as an ideal method for attaining and transmitting an

unimpeded
experience of
enlightenment,
they became the
main object of
study in Zen
meditation, where their contemplation
was meant to

compilations,

Steven Heine, who
